Dear Applicant:

Thank you for your inquiry into the Alamo Area Regional Law Enforcement Academy. Licensed in 1972, this Academy has been successfully training peace officers, correction officers, and telecommunicators for the central Texas region for more than forty years.

As a potential future peace officer for the State of Texas, your choice of an Academy for your basic training is an important decision not to be taken lightly. The Academy has maintained a deep rooted reputation of providing over forty years of quality professional training. Our goal is provide our communities with the best trained peace officers possible.

As a Regional Academy, we provide training for over 160 law enforcement agencies. Our region has over 10,000 Texas peace officers, corrections officers, telecommunicators, and federal and military police personnel. The law enforcement profession is not for everyone so we consider it an important part of our job to help you understand what is involved in this career choice.

1. Can anybody join a police academy and become a peace officer?

No, you must meet certain eligibility requirements set by state law and Alamo Area Regional Law Enforcement Academy. Applicant must be a U.S. citizen.

2. What things may keep me from being eligible?

1. Not meeting state required basic educational certifications.
2. In order for an individual to enroll in any basic licensing course the individual must meet the following standards:
 - a. A search of local, state and national criminal records that:
 - i. The individual is not currently charged with any criminal offense
 - ii. The individual has never been on court-ordered community supervision or probation for any criminal offense above the grade of a Class B misdemeanor or a Class B misdemeanor within the last ten years from the date of the court order.

- iii. The individual has never been convicted of an offense above the grade of a Class B misdemeanor or a Class B misdemeanor within the last ten years
 - iv. The individual has never been convicted of any family violence offense
 - v. The individual is not prohibited by state or federal law from operating a motor vehicle
3. An individual who has had a dishonorable or a bad conduct discharge from military service will be ineligible.
 4. An individual who is prohibited by state or federal law from possessing firearms or ammunition will be ineligible.

3. Does your Academy disqualify applicants for any other reason other than those mentioned above?

You must pass an entrance exam that determines level of basic reading, writing and math skills. In addition, you must also pass a physical examination, psychological examination, drug screening and meet a physical fitness standard discussed below. Failure to pass any one of these requirements will exclude an applicant from the Academy.

There is no college degree exception for the entrance exam requirement and there are no other exceptions to the other entrance standards.

4. How long does a basic academy take to complete?

The Basic Peace Office Course is over 950 hours. The full-time course, approximately 8 hours per day, will allow you to complete the program in approximately 6 months.

Note: Due to the logistics of some blocks of training, there will be approximately 2-3 weekend classes during basic academy training. Students are advised of these dates on Orientation Day.

5. How much does all this cost?

Effective November 1, 2016, the basic tuition for this course is $2,900, Tuition covers:

- Class A and Class B AACOG Academy uniforms
- Books
- Use of Academy training pistols, training ammunition, and protective gear
- Use of Academy firearms pistols and shotguns
- Live ammunition for the pistols and shotguns
- Use Academy patrol vehicles
- Use of duty gear and other equipment (including training baton, training, TASER, and training OC Spray)
- Also included with the tuition are additional certifications and trainings in:
 - CPR/AED training

- Tactical trauma care
- Baton training
- OC “Pepper” Spray training
- TASER (Electronic Control Device)
- Active shooter first responder training
- National Academy for Professional Driving (NAPD) Tactical Police Driving
- Body worn camera training
- RADAR and LIDAR training

Additional Costs: During the applicant process students must pay for their state mandated medical clearance and drug screening ($103.50). The state mandated psychological testing is also about $100.00, a state mandated background check is about $40.00 and a Type 1 Status Driving Record, about $5.00. The cost for the psychological is payable to the Academy, but the medical/drug screen and the background check are payable to the facilities performing the service.

6. Do I have to pay all that up front?

A student is required to pay for the medical/drug screen, the psychological test and background check during the application process. Upon receiving a letter of acceptance, the first half of the tuition, $1450.00 is due to the Academy on Orientation Day. The second half of the tuition, $1450.00 is due by mid-term (in three months). Credit card payments are accepted and students will be given instructions on how to pay by credit card when they receive their acceptance letter. A copy of the confirmed payment will need to be brought to the class facilitator to show proof of payment.

7. Does the Academy offer any financial assistance?

Other than the installment plan mentioned above, the Academy is approved for V.A. Benefits with the Department of Veterans Affairs program (G.I. Bill and Post 9-11 G.I. Bill).

8. Are uniforms required?

As a traditional police academy, we have standards that govern rules of conduct; including a dress code. This code requires the wearing of the approved Academy uniform. Unless a student is currently employed by a law enforcement agency and is authorized by that agency to wear their dress uniform, all students must wear the approved Academy uniform.

9. Does the Academy require me to purchase a weapon?

No, the Academy will provide all firearms related training weapons. No personal weapons will be allowed at the Academy and during all training.

10. Is there any physical training involved?

The law enforcement profession demands the mastery of many physical skills such as driving, shooting, and defensive tactics. Much of the training will include hands-on instruction requiring the student to participate in physically demanding tasks.

The Academy requires applicants to pass an entrance physical fitness assessment prior to beginning the Academy.

11. How lenient is the Academy on attendance if I have scheduling conflicts?

The Academy requires you to attend 95% of all classroom instruction and 100% of all tactical “hands on” training. Failure to meet this standard will result in termination from the program.

12. Are there any other issues that may cause termination?

Typically poor attendance and poor academics account for a large part of class attrition. However, violations of a stringent code of conduct can result in termination. As a Texas Peace Officer you will be held to a higher ethical and professional standard than the average citizen and this is reinforced in our Academy. Consequently, cadets are required to avoid conduct that is unbecoming to a Peace Officer.

13. Does the Academy assist me with job placement if I successfully complete this course?

Yes. Although the Academy does not have a formal job placement office, law enforcement recruiters frequently visit the Academy, and the Academy holds job fairs for all cadets three times a year. We also make every effort to make our cadets aware of job prospects and facilitate the employment process.

14. What do I have to do to get started?

STEP 1

The enrollment process starts with the completion of the attached application and an entrance exam. There is no study guide for the entrance exam. In order to take the entrance exam, you must bring the following required documentation on the day of the exam:
