

INVITATION TO STAKEHOLDERS MEETING

AACOG is creating a four-hour training program for first responders about Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities. The training will prepare law enforcement officers and other first responders to respond effectively and interact with special populations in different emergency situations.

Community involvement and partnerships are key to tailoring this new training to meet the needs of our local area. As a leader in the first responder community, you are invited to attend this important stakeholders meeting:

WHEN: Monday, October 17 from 1 – 3 PM
WHERE: Alamo Area Council of Governments (AACOG)
First Floor Board Room
8700 Tesoro Drive, San Antonio, Texas.

Two (2) hours of TCOLE credit will be reported for law enforcement, corrections, or police dispatchers who attend this meeting.

At this partnership meeting we will:

- Discuss local needs
- Create a vision of the ideal training
- Identify existing tools and program elements that can be integrated into this training
- Identify some potential trainers for future training teams

Your expertise and insight as a leader in this area is highly valued. We welcome your input to help us create an excellent training program that will be particularly suited to the needs of our region.

Please RSVP your attendance to Susan Lodge at slodge@aacog.com or (210) 362-5230.
